

Privacy policy

Conference organiser

The Australian Photovoltaics Institute (APVI) is the conference organiser for this Asia Pacific Solar Research Conference and is committed to protecting the privacy of your personal information. The conference organiser is bound by relevant Australian privacy legislation.

Collecting your personal information

It is the conference organiser's usual practice to collect personal information directly from you via the online registration form fields either during the registration process or any expression of interest forms you complete on the conference website. The conference organiser does not collect personal information about you from any publically available sources or via other means.

The conference organiser does not collect personal information about you if you only browse this website. This website may use session cookies during a search query of the website or when you access this website.

Using your personal information

The conference organiser only uses your personal information for the purposes for which you give it to the conference organiser and for related, internal management purposes.

The conference organiser does not give your personal information to anyone else unless one of the following applies;

- You have consented;
- You would reasonably expect that your information be passed on to the recipient as part of the provision of products or services to you ancillary to your registration for this conference;
- It is required or authorized by law;
- It will prevent or lessen a serious and imminent threat to somebody's life or health;
- It is reasonably necessary for the enforcement of the criminal law or of a law imposing a pecuniary penalty, or for the protection of public revenue.

The conference organiser may collect and analyse non-identifiable website traffic data to improve our services.

Your access

You may access personal information that the conference organiser holds about you, and you can ask to correct personal information held about you.

If you are on one or more of the conference organiser's email lists you may opt out of further contact by clicking the unsubscribe option in all emails received by you.
